Donald Hill - Fw: Request for Legal opinion on zoning case

From: "Don Hill" <dhill@mycingular.blackberry.net>

To: "Donald Hill" <dwhill@ci.dallas.tx.us>

Date: 3/9/2005 9:51 AM

Subject: Fw: Request for Legal opinion on zoning case

----Original Message----

From: "madeleine johnson" <madeleine@tmo.blackberry.net>

Date: Tue, 8 Mar 2005 13:33:57

To:"Don Hill" <dhill@mycingular.blackberry.net>
Subject: Re: Request for Legal opinion on zoning case

We will get on it this morning.

----Original Message----

From: "Don Hill" <dhill@mycingular.blackberry.net>

Date: Tue, 8 Mar 2005 13:32:52

To: "Madelaine Johnson" < madeleine@tmo.blackberry.net>

Cc: "Madeleine Johnson" < mbjohns@ci.dallas.tx.us > Subject: Request for Legal opinion on zoning case

On the march 9, 2005 agenda there is a zoning case involving a change in zoning for a parcel of land which will probably increase the value of the property. I my question is do I have a conflict in this zoning case under the following facts.

My law client has been hired to do consulting work for a business entity on an unrelated multi family housing project. The business entity that has hired my law client in the unrelated matter is a contractor/ consultant on the proposed planned development which willll take place as a result of a favorable decision in the zoning case on the March 9, agenda.

Do I have a conflict in the zoning case because of my law client's business relationship with the business entity on the unrelated matter?

I did not have jesus, gwen or tom's email address so I apologize for emailing you so early in the morning, but I need a prompt response. Thanks don hill

Sent wirelessly via BlackBerry from T-Mobile.

Donald Hill - Fw: Request for Legal opinion on zoning case

From: "Don Hill" <dhill@mycingular.blackberry.net>

To: "Donald Hill" <dwhill@ci.dallas.tx.us>

Date: 3/9/2005 9:50 AM

Subject: Fw: Request for Legal opinion on zoning case

----Original Message----

From: "madeleine johnson" <madeleine@tmo.blackberry.net>

Date: Tue, 8 Mar 2005 16:10:57

To:"Don Hill" <dhill@mycingular.blackberry.net>
Subject: Re: Request for Legal opinion on zoning case

As the matter being handled by your client is unrelated to the agenda item, the fact that your client's client has other business that may be be impacted by the vote on the agenda item does not create a conflict for you. You may vote on the item. Thanks for asking in advance.

----Original Message----

From: "Don Hill" <dhill@mycingular.blackberry.net>

Date: Tue, 8 Mar 2005 13:32:52

To: "Madelaine Johnson" < madeleine@tmo.blackberry.net>

Cc: "Madeleine Johnson" < mbjohns@ci.dallas.tx.us> Subject: Request for Legal opinion on zoning case

On the march 9, 2005 agenda there is a zoning case involving a change in zoning for a parcel of land which will probably increase the value of the property. I my question is do I have a conflict in this zoning case under the following facts.

My law client has been hired to do consulting work for a business entity on an unrelated multi family housing project. The business entity that has hired my law client in the unrelated matter is a contractor/ consultant on the proposed planned development which willl take place as a result of a favorable decision in the zoning case on the March 9, agenda.

Do I have a conflict in the zoning case because of my law client's business relationship with the business entity on the unrelated matter?

I did not have jesus, gwen or tom's email address so I apologize for emailing you so early in the morning, but I need a prompt response. Thanks don hill

Sent wirelessly via BlackBerry from T-Mobile.

Donald Hill - Fw: Request for Legal opinion on zoning case

From: "Don Hill" <dhill@mycingular.blackberry.net>

To: "Donald Hill" <dwhill@ci.dallas.tx.us>

Date: 3/9/2005 9:51 AM

Subject: Fw: Request for Legal opinion on zoning case

----Original Message----

From: "Don Hill" <dhill@mycingular.blackberry.net>

Date: Tue, 8 Mar 2005 16:29:12

To: "Madelaine Johnson" <madeleine@tmo.blackberry.net> Subject: Re: Request for Legal opinion on zoning case

Thanks

----Original Message----

From: "madeleine johnson" <madeleine@tmo.blackberry.net>

Date: Tue, 8 Mar 2005 16:10:57

To:"Don Hill" <dhill@mycingular.blackberry.net>
Subject: Re: Request for Legal opinion on zoning case

As the matter being handled by your client is unrelated to the agenda item, the fact that your client's client has other business that may be impacted by the vote on the agenda item does not create a conflict for you. You may vote on the item. Thanks for asking in advance.

----Original Message----

From: "Don Hill" <dhill@mycingular.blackberry.net>

Date: Tue, 8 Mar 2005 13:32:52

To: "Madelaine Johnson" < madeleine@tmo.blackberry.net>

Cc:"Madeleine Johnson" <mbjohns@ci.dallas.tx.us> Subject: Request for Legal opinion on zoning case

On the march 9, 2005 agenda there is a zoning case involving a change in zoning for a parcel of land which will probably increase the value of the property. I my question is do I have a conflict in this zoning case under the following facts.

My law client has been hired to do consulting work for a business entity on an unrelated multi family housing project. The business entity that has hired my law client in the unrelated matter is a contractor/ consultant on the proposed planned development which willll take place as a result of a favorable decision in the zoning case on the March 9, agenda.

Do I have a conflict in the zoning case because of my law client's business relationship with the business entity on the unrelated matter?

I did not have jesus, gwen or tom's email address so I apologize for emailing you so early in the morning, but I need a prompt response. Thanks don hill

Sent wirelessly via BlackBerry from T-Mobile.